

Oakland County in the CIVIL WAR

NOW IS THE TIME!

to purchase your map
FROM YOUR LOCAL HISTORICAL SOCIETY

This one of a kind map, for the first time ever, is now available at various Historical Societies and museums through-out Oakland County. The fourth map in the Heritage Map Series richly illustrates and documents the contributions and sacrifices made by the residents of Oakland County during this epic struggle in American history. The artifacts and sites which exist today tell a remarkable story from a local perspective.

From the Underground Railroad safe houses in Oakland to the capture of Confederate President Jefferson Davis intriguing Oakland County personalities have played a role.
