PROGRAM INFORMATION:

Paddling with Nature's Lumberjacks

Beavers are common in southeast Michigan and paddling through their habitat we can see their lodges, dams and preferred tree species. This paddle will also teach basic tree ID along the shores of Crooked Lake.

Finding Fish

Paddle through fish habitats to examine and identify several fish species, learn about their life cycles and discover what makes them unique.

Turtle Tour

Bring your binoculars and we'll cruise the lake edge while learning about turtles - where to see them, what they're up to and how to identify them.

Elements of Change

Receding glaciers, flooding, fires, the tilling of soil, animals, plants and humans have all contributed to the landscape we see today. Learn how these actors have shaped the region from the end of the ice age to today and how we are stewarding our uplands and wetlands for the generations to come.

Cost is $10/person. Recommended for ages 18 and older. Limited to eight participants per day.
