

Chef Terence Tarver

Chef Terence Tarver is executive chef at The Inn at St. John's in Plymouth, where he oversees all culinary operations for the conference center, restaurants and in-room dining. He has more than 25 years of professional experience in the culinary arts and hospitality industry. Chef Tarver is well versed in classic French technique, scratch cooking, international cuisine, fusion, charcuterie, garde management and butchery.

He received his culinary education from Schoolcraft College in Livonia and is a member of the American Culinary Federation, Michigan Chefs de Cuisine Association and Schoolcraft College Culinary Advisory Board.